Mait Extract, an artice of well-known nutritive value, at Berlin, vs. Tarrant & Co., N. Y., Jud'se Wallace has decided that Johann B. Hoff was the original and exclusive owner and manufacturer of that well-known article. But he refuses the prayer for an injunction and an account, because in 1839 Tarrant & Co. were appointed Hoff sole Agent in America for 20 years, under a contract which it is claimed was broken by Tarrant & Co. He holds that if the contract was so broken it was at the inst nee of Leopoid Hoff, who was technically a partner with Johann B. Hoff, and that by partnership law the latter was presumed to know his partner's acts, and was bound by them. He holds fur her that Johann B. Hoff's desay in troceeding took away his right to the Extract for the past five years in my private practice, and have found it to be the best health-restoring beverage and tonic nutritive known. I have found it especially good in perons convalencing from fever, in cases of dyspensia, for mothers nursing, and in cases of weakly children, and also in lung troubles. My atand also in lung troubles. My attention was drawn by the immense importation semi-monthly, and shout a million of bottles imported by you have passed my inspection in the Custom House satisfactorily for the past five years.
